Marko Ungashick, AIF® Co-Founder / Chief Executive Officer

“No one is perfect... all we can do is strive to do the next right thing.”

Prior to founding Two West, Marko spent nine years as the COO of a nationally recognized sports marketing company and then as President and CEO of his family's longtime commercial linen and supply business. He has over twenty years of experience working with small to medium-sized business owners in all phases of the business life cycle. Marko is able to draw on his past entrepreneurial experience to understand the demands and fiduciary responsibilities of the business owner, the needs of the employees as it relates to retirement savings and the importance of financial wellness.

As Two West' CEO, Marko focuses on the core functions of the organization to enable it to achieve its long-term vision. He provides general oversight and manages the day-to-day operations, ensuring a smooth functioning, efficient organization. Marko also serves as a chief spokesperson for Two West in the community.

Marko and his wife, Melissa, reside in Overland Park, KS. They are active members of their church, passionate about travel, focused on the moment and spend a good deal of their free time devoted to juggling the many activities of their very active and loved kiddos.

Two West was founded on the belief that two people with common goals journeying together in the same direction have a better chance of arriving at their destination than going it alone.

In other words, we're big fans of the buddy system. Because of this core principle, engaging with people in authentic ways and investing in their life's journey is at the heart of all that we do. We believe we have an opportunity and a responsibility to leave the world a better place and positively impact the lives of the people we come in contact by joining them in their journey, traveling alongside them, and helping them get farther down their path. We envision a world where people are closer to their destination and have a greater enjoyment of their journey because our paths have crossed.
